Americans Capture Viru Harbor After Violent Fighting

..nding Forces At Nassau Bay, Below Enemy Base At Salamua, Move Swiftly Inland and Are In Contact With Nipponese

ANSPORT M'CAWLEY IS SUNK BY ENEMY U-BOAT

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

American troops have captured Viru harbor on New Georgie Island er a violent sea-air battle in which at least 65 Japanese planes, 17 S. air craft and one American ship were lost, the navy announced lay as Allied forces drove ahead in their sweeping five-point offensive th of Australia.

The navy said Japanese torpedo planes hit and disabled the 7,712-n American transport McCawley, formerly the Grace Line's Santa rbara, after troops from the ship had been put ashore.

"Repotrs indicate that all personnel were removed and that there as no loss of life," a navy bulletin said.

The McCawley was sunk later by an enemy submarine.

Capture of Viru harbor put the Americans within about 40 miles of the Japanese air base at Munda, New Georgia. Viru village had en used as a Japanese outpost - Munda.

Furious Japanese aerial resistce was encountered as U. S. seaerne forces landed from naval nsports on nearby Rendova and, five miles south of Munda, th the enemy throwing an estited 110 planes—fighters, dive mbers and many other types—o the assault.

"All elements—ground, naval d air—are being employed in sest synchronization," said a lletin from Gen. Douglas Macthur's headquarters.

Striking on a 750-mile arc, the merican and Allied forces landed n Rendova and New Georgia slands in the central Solomons, ized Tobriand and Woodlark, slands off the southeast tip of New uinea, without a struggle, and tormed ashore at Nassau Bay in ortheast New Guinea.

Dispatches said that the landing orces at Nassau Bay, just below he big Japanese base at Salamaua, noved swiftly inland "and are in ontact with the enemy."

Viru harbor fell to the U. S. nding forces yesterday (today, olomon islands time), the navy id.

Meanwhile, War Secretary Stimn declared in Washington that our forces have reached the outer efenses of Japan and strong emy reaction may be expected" s the offensive rolled forward om two main directions—in the olomons and in New Guinea.

"Reports are incomplete but tisfactory progress apparently s already been made," Stimson id.

The offensive, he added, is proeeding on schedule.

Informed Washington quarters predicted that the drive, launched Tuesday morning (Wednesday morning, Solomon Islands Time) ould touch off a momentous new ea battle.

Fighting was also believed in rogress on Rendova and New eorgia islands.

All operations are under the upreme command of Gen. Macrthur.

While details of the actual fightng remained scarce, qualified ashington informants predicted

Nipponese Claims Are Extravagant

By the Associated Press

Japanese imperial headquarters knowledged today that Amerin troops had landed on Rendova land in the Solomons, but reportd that Japanese naval planes had unk or heavily damaged six Amerian transports, three cruisers and a destroyer.

The Japanese claims—reminiscent of extravagant assertions ade in the past by imperial headquarters—were contained in a communique broadcast by the Tokyo radio and recorded by The Associated Press. The reports with regard to American losses were wholly without confirmation.

The communique, which also reported the destruction of 31 American planes, ignored landings on New Georgia, Trobriand and Woodlark Islands, and at Nassau Bay in New Guinea, announced earlier by Allied headquarters in Australia.

The broadcast added that Japanese planes, in close cooperation with land forces, were continuing violent attacks on the American anding parties on Rendova island.

Sicilian and Sardinian Air Fields Bombed

American Fliers Meet Virtually No Opposition From Enemy

MANY FIRES STARTED

By NOLAN NORGAARD

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 1.—(AP)—United States bombers and fighter-bombers of the northwest African air force blasted Palermo and four Axis air fields on Socily yesterday, virtually without opposition from enemy fighters, it was announced today.

(The Italian high command communique, broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, reported "great damage and many casualties" at Palermo, a port of northwest Sicily. Sardinian targets also were attacked, the communique said. Fires were reported started and several buildings destroyed in Cagliari.

(Submarine pressure upon Axis supply lines continued. The London admiralty announced that British submarines had destroyed a fast transport and three supply vessels and probably had sunk a fifth ship in Italian waters, boosting to more than 20 the number of enemy craft sunk or damaged in the Mediterranean during the last week.)

The attacks came after RAF Wellingtons, in a pre-dawn attack, smashed again at the ferry terminus and freight yards of Messina and also at the road south of San Giovanni and San Marco, on the nearby Italian mainland.

One two-ton bomb was among the explosives seen to burst in the Messina yards and many fires were observed. A large fire also developed south of San Giovanni.

STATE WPA CLOSING ITS DOORS FOR GOOD

Harrisburg, July 1.—(AP)—Only a half-dozen clerical workers remained today as the Pennsylvania Works Projects Administration closed its doors for good.

Since last winter when President Roosevelt ordered all project offices to wind up activities by Feb. 1, 1943, or as soon after as possible, Richard Irvin, state administrator, has been closing down project after project. The last two, airport work in Erie and Johnstown, were completed May 10. Most WPA enrollees were absorbed quickly by private industry.

Started in 1935, the agency hit its top load in Pennsylvania in 1938 when more than 292,000 persons were aided.

M'GRAW MAN SUICIDES

Word was received early this afternoon at the coroner's office that Harry Morrison, 49 years of age, was found hanging in an engine house on his farm near McGraw. According to the information telephoned to Warren Mr. Morrison had been despondent over ill health. He is survived by his wife and one son. The tragedy is believed to have occurred about twelve o'clock today.

APPEAL MADE TO CHIEFS OF FREE FRENCH

Assurances Asked of Both DeGaulle and Giraud There Would Be No Important Change

FOR MILITARY PURPOSES

London, July 1—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed to the house of commons today that both the American and British governments had asked Generals De Gaulle and Giraud June 19 for assurances that there would be no important change in the French command in North Africa at present.

The prime minister also declared that the two French leaders had been asked to satisfy Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in North Africa, that the present French military commander in that area, Gen. Giraud, had effective control of the French Forces there.

The assurance was requested, Churchill added, "in view of the prolonged discussions between the French leaders in Algiers on questions involving the character and control of the French armed forces and the serious effect which this might have on the furtherance of the war effort and the safety of Allied forces."

The representation to the French Committee of National Liberation, the prime minister said, "was made on military grounds and implied no decision to invest Eisenhower with full control over the political organization in North Africa."

Although diplomatic in tone the Prime Minister's statement appeared to confirm the Washington dispatch of June 27 by Kirke Simpson of The Associated Press, based on information from very high but unidentified sources, concerning the North African situation.

Churchill, who was cheered when he entered commons, said he deprecated "giving any undue attention to the personality aspect of the new French organization."

"The committee is working on the basis of collective responsibility and it is our hope that all its members will merge their personal and individual interests for the common good of France," the prime minister declared.

"The British government have consistently encouraged the union of Frenchmen in the fight against the Axis and for the liberation of France."

KNOX SPEECH TIMED WITH NEW OFFENSIVE

Hollywood, July 1.—(AP)—Latest American successes in the South Pacific constituted timely action to fit the words of Navy Secretary Frank Knox.

"The war lords of Tokyo know not where or when the next blow will fall," he told a war bond rally here last night. Then, pausing momentarily while a smile spread his face, he deviated briefly from his speech to add:

"Tojo found that out this morning. Just before I took the rostrum I was informed that other enemy-held islands have just been occupied by the navy and marines."

(Word had just been flashed that the Trobriand, Woodlark, Rendova and New Georgia island groups had been invaded by forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.)

Traitor's Life Running Short

Detroit, July 1—(AP)—Max Stephan, convicted traitor who had boasted an Axis victory in the war would save him, looked today to President Roosevelt for an order sparing him from the gallows in tomorrow's pre-dawn hours.

It was his only hope—and the White House preserved a silence which seemed ominous to Stephen and those who seen a commutation of the death sentence for him.

At the federal correctional institution at Milan, Mich., where the execution is scheduled to take place, he was under constant guard, described as quaking with fright as his hours of life ran shorter.

A naturalized citizen and native of Germany, the 52-year-old Stephan was convicted of having given aid and comfort to the enemy by assisting the flight of Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug, Nazi flier who had escaped from a Canadian prison camp.

New Pipeline Will Not Ease Gasoline Curbs

Washington, July 1—(AP)—Secretary Ickes said today the midwest was closer to tighter gasoline consumption curbs than ever and declared the Pacific coast probably would be restricted more severely too, before the end of the year.

Ickes told a press conference that opening of the Big Inch pipeline's eastward extension within the next two weeks would bring the midwest still nearer to sharper restrictions without easing the drastic curbs now imposed on eastern motorists.

Investigation Into Policies Of BEW Starts

War Mobilization Director Unable to Make Peace In Wallace-Jones Feud

INQUIRY IS BROADENED

By JACK BELL

Washington, July 1.—(AP)—A sweeping investigation into the policies and worldwide operations of the Board of Economic Warfare (BEW) was projected by members of the Byrd committee today as Vice President Wallace gave notice the agency soon will ask congress for direct financing.

The inquiry resulted from a hot exchange in which Wallace, head of BEW, accused Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones of obstructing the board's acquisition of vital war materials.

James F. Byrnes, war mobilization director, summoned both to the White House yesterday for a peace-making conference, which apparently failed of its objective.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) and Senator George (D-Ga.), a member, meanwhile told reporters the joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures will broaden a present inquiry into subsidiary corporations of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) to look into the allocations and commitments made by BEW.

Wallace said in a statement last

WIFE DODGER IS HELD FOR DRAFT VIOLATION

Philadelphia, July 1—(AP)—He wasn't dodging the draft, protested Harry Wagner, 36, he was dodging his wife.

That was the explanation he offered U. S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin before whom he was arraigned on a charge of failure to have a selective service registration card.

Wagner, who said he registered with a Cleveland, Ohio, draft board under an assumed name to prevent his wife from learning his whereabouts, was held in $1,000 bail.

ICKES PLEA IS UNHEEDED BY COAL MINERS

Return of Scattered Workers Offset by Drive to Close Pits in Upper Monongahela

TWO DISTRICTS TIED UP

Pittsburgh, July 1—(AP)—More thousands of hard coal miners returned to the pits today in eastern Pennsylvania and a couple thousand more soft coal workers returned in Alabama, reducing the number of idle in the nation's mines to roughly 104,000.

Most of the hard coal workers returning were employed in United Mine Workers District No. 1 where the vast majority of the workers trooped back in compliance with votes taken yesterday and last night.

There was no break, however, among thousands of insurgents elsewhere in the anthracite field, and about 30,000 out of a total of 83,000 remained idle.

The number idle in the country's fields yesterday had been unofficially estimated at 130,000.

Last night Secretary Ickes, fuel administrator, in charge of the mines now under government control, appealed to coal miners everywhere not to stay away from their jobs "on the eve of the greatest military campaign in history."

In western Pennsylvania's soft coal fields, the return of scattered Unite Mine Workers (UMW) locals was offset by a drive to close all mines in the upper Monongahela river valley, heart of the steel industry's metallurgical coal fields, and the refusal of 5,200 Central Pennsylvania minters to work last night despite the solid fuels administrator's warning that "the complaints of no man or group of men" could be placed above the nation's military goal.

UMW District President John P. Busarello of Pittsburgh and John Hynes of Uniontown said, however, they believed the situation was "well in hand" and predicted an end by next Tuesday of this third in the two-month series of work stoppages which, the trade publication Iron Age estimated, have cost the war effort 170,000 tons of steel.

Ickes mentioned John L. Lewis, UMW president, twice by name, once in quoting from a letter he said he had received, urging that the strike be ended by "freezing all union funds and arresting Lewis and other union leaders for treason."

The secretary balanced that quotation with excerpts from other letters urging that the mines be taken from the operators and wages raised. The second mention of Lewis came in Ickes' statement that he had not made any "deal" with the UMW head or with the operators.

Reduction In Efficacy of Sub Warfare of Nazis Admitted

By the Associated Press

The Berlin radio testified today to a marked reduction in the efficacy of German submarine warfare last month, broadcasting a DNB dispatch which listed the u-boat toll of Allied shipping in June at 20 ships totalling 107,000 tons, but implied this was only a temporary setback.

The broadcast was recorded by The Associated Press. The enemy claim represented less than one-seventh of the reported sinkings in March—149 ships.

It was presented 24 hours after Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons that, as a result of the massacre of u-boats in May "we have had in June the best month we have ever known in the whole 46 months of the war."

The tonnage claimed for June was less than one-third of the May figure, which was the lowest previous total this year.

Previous monthly claims of tonnages sunk were: January, 408,000; February, 545,000; March, 851,000; and April 415,000.

DNB said that, in addition to

DROWNS IN ACCIDENT

Camp Edwards, Mass., July 1—(AP)—Second Lieut. Alpheus B. Clark, 24, Cherry Tree, Pa., was reported missing today by the Camp Edwards public relations office after a small cabin cruiser capsized during a night landing problem between Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. Two others were reported missing, one was drowned and six were rescued.

Martinique May Secede

Washington, July 1—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull said today the United States navy has received a dispatch from authorities on Martinique requesting reopening of discussions concerning the status of that French Caribbean colony.

New York, July 1—(AP)—Martinique's high commissioner, Admiral Georges Robert, was reported today to have invited the United States to name an envoy "to fix terms for a change of French authority" on the island, a step which may align it at last with the Allies.

Robert, who served by appointment from Vichy and declined to side with either Gen. Charles De Gaulle or Gen. Henri Giraud, remained silent when the French Committee for National Liberation was established in North Africa.

The Martinique radio announced last night, however, in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, that the commissioner had addressed a "communique to the population" telling them that "to avoid bloodshed" he had dispatched a request to the United States for "terms."

The request was conditioned the French-language broadcast declared, on a renewal of "the guarantee to maintain French sovereignty in these islands, and of the non-intervention of American forces x x x." The other island in his domain is Guadeloupe.

Rendova Scene of Solomons Attack

The rhythmical name of Rendova is the newest to clinch a spot in U. S. history books, for American forces have landed on this small island in their invasion of the northern Solomons. ## Mythical "Speaker" Predicts Bombing of U. S. This Summer

Axis May Be Counting on Raids to Create Frantic Defensive Psychology

THREE METHODS CITED

By WILLIAM RYE

Washington, July 1—(AP)—A vigorous warning that the United States might be subjected to aerial bombing by the Axis enemy this summer was voiced here today.

D. C. Speaker, the mythical District of Columbia spokesman who, however, frequently represents authoritative sources who will not be quoted by name, said:

"No major military damage could be inflicted by such raids, but the Axis could well be counting on utilizing such raids to create a frantic defensive psychology within this country in an effort to compel the Allies command to pull back its strength to the home front to satisfy public clamor.

"If they succeed in any such plan, it would prolong the war indefinitely and result in an enormous waste of life."

Speaker who said he spoke with full knowledge of the United Nations military situation, said the army, which is responsible for the defense of the country against enemy air attack, had never lost sight of the possibility. But, Speaker added, the army also was determined not to allow the possibility to play a disproportionate part in the allocation of its forces.

Asked why the warning was being repeated at this time, Speaker replied that the reminder was timely on any occasion, no more

Lewistown Man New Pa. Air Raid Warden

Harrisburg, July 1—(AP)—The State Defense Council today named James A. Kepler, of Lewistown, as chief air raid warden of Pennsylvania, succeeding Col. Lynn G. Adams now in charge of air raid protective services.

The council also appointed Harold A. Buch, of New Comberland as transportation officer, succeeding Frank A. Shimer, of Harrisburg, who resigned to give his entire time to his duties as director of Public Utility Commission's bureau of transportation.

War Agencies Are Operating "On the Cuff"

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, July 1—(AP)—A log jam of money bills in congress left President Roosevelt without a nickel of emergency funds today for the first time in three years and forced many war agencies to operate temporarily on the cuff.

Although both senate and house were agreed that the executive should start off the new fiscal year with at least $89,000,000 for emergency purposes, a deadlock over withholding salaries of three federal workers blocked passage of a bill making the sum available. The measure was one of half a dozen major bills left stranded when congress adjourned overnight after a futile attempt to shove them through before the 1942-43 fiscal year ended at midnight. The only big bill cleared was a $71,500,000,000 win-the-war army supply measure.

Except for the urgent deficiency bill carrying the president's money, all the other measures have provisions validating any obligation incurred after June 30 provided the obligation was in accordance with limitations in each bill.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) predicted, however, final congressional approval of the $143,000,000 deficiency bill by nightfall.

The house voted to withhold funds for the three, Goodwin Watson and William E. Dodd, Jr., of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), and Dr. Robert Morss Lovett, government secretary of the Virgin Islands. The senate overwhelmingly rejected the house action, and both branches have stood pat.

MOTOR CLUBS FAVOR JEFFERS GAS CZAR

Harrisburg, July 1—(AP)—President Roosevelt was urged by secrectaries of more than 60 Pennsylvania automobile clubs yesterday to give Rubber Director William M. Jeffers full control of gasoline production, distribution and rationing.

At concluding sessions of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation secretaries conference, representatives of organized car owners also approved a resolution demanding an investigation of the fuel shortage, saying the dwindling supply in Pennsylvania "is greatly curtailing the national production of war materials."

FORMER LEGISLATOR FORFEITS COUPONS

Harrisburg, July 1—(AP)—P. B. Rice, of Harrisburg, former state legislator, was ordered to forfeit 36 "C" gasoline ration coupons by a special panel of the Harrisburg ration board last night on charges of violating OPA regulations in a recent trip to Volant, in western Pennsylvania.

Rice said he went to Volant to buy cattle for his three Lebanon county farms. The panel contended he used the gasoline for purposes other than that for which they are issued.

Tokyo Shaken By Earthquake

By the Associated Press

The Tokyo radio reported that a sharp earthquake shook the Japanese capital and adjacent areas today, but damage was declared to be slight.

The broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, said the epicenter was located near Shimotsuma, approximately 50 miles northeast of Tokyo.

A DNB dispatch broadcast from Berlin reported high buildings in the "lower town" section of Tokyo swayed and trembled for one minute without causing serious damage. In some areas bricks were said to have been loosened, collapsing walls.

The Berlin broadcast pointed out that the earthquake coincided with a celebration observing creation of the "greater Tokyo" municipal area.

UNEQUALLED RAIDS MADE ON CONTINENT

Aerial Power Reaches Out In Rising Fury From Bases In Britain During Past Month

ACHIEVEMENTS CITED

By the Associated Press

London, July 1—Striking from three directions, the mighty air arms of the American and British Allies subjected Axis Europe to a design of destruction unparalleled in all history during the month of June, and for the enemy the worst was still to come.

During the month, Allied aerial power reached out in rising fury from bases in Britain, in Northwest Africa and in the Middle East—with American and British fliers cooperating smoothly to keep the offensive going virtually around the clock.

These accomplishments stood out:

1. The unconditional surrender of the Italian fortress island of Pantelleria on June 11, first island ever conquered by air power alone; the subsequent capitulation of Lampedusa, Linosa and Lampione, and the pattern of destruction spread over Italy, Sicily and Sardinia.

2. The great destruction wrought by the RAF in its city-by-city bombing of the Ruhr valley, to whose concentrated industries Hitler looks for replenishment of his war machine.

Also significant were the two American Liberator raids last week on Axis airfields near Athens and Salonika, an aerial pointer toward a possible Balkan invasion route, and inauguration by the RAF of a bombing shuttle service between Britain and Africa with an important raid on both the outbound and homeward trips.

Available figures did not reveal the total weight of explosives dumped upon the European enemy during the month, but Capt. Sir Harold H. Balfour, under secretary of state for air, told the house of commons yesterday that the RAF alone now is dropping bombs on Germany at three times the 1942 rate.

The U. S. Eighth Air Force, while carrying out only seven bombing missions embracing a dozen targets as compared with nine raids and 19 targets in May, was reliably understood to have greatly increased its bomb tonnage per raid by turning out in double strength of only a few weeks before. More than 200 planes, for instance, were sent on the Wilhelmshaven-Cuxhaven raid June 11.

A highlight of the month for the Britain-based American fliers was their first penetration of the Ruhr.

BULLETINS

London, July 1—(AP)—Enemy targets along the French coastal area were reported under attack by Allied planes last night as Britain itself passed the seventh consecutive night without a raid.

London, July 1—(AP)—The German-controlled Paris radio said today British troops stationed in northern England and in northern Ireland had been transferred to southern England "in anticipation, it is believed, of events scheduled for July 3."

Rio de Janeiro, July 1—(AP)—In a move interpreted by observers as preliminary to the eventual dispatch of an army overseas, Brazil today began recruiting volunuteers for her armed forces, heretofore supplied entirely by the compulsory service system.

Washington, July 1—(AP)—Fuel oil coupons for the season's first period become valid for ten gallons each, effective today, in the 33 states where fuel oil is rationed. These coupons may be used until January 3.

Washington, July 1—(AP)—A five-man senate declaration preparing to take off for a swing around the world's battle zones in an army bomber won't bother the generals with any free advice on how to win the war.

Washington, July 1—(AP)—Twelve regional and 46 branch offices of the Office of War Information (OWI) throughoutu the nation remained closed as the new fiscal year began today. Congress cut off their funds.

Royal Takes Over Entire Superior Plant

The Royal Manufacturing Company has just announced the purchase of the remainder of the Superior Oil Refinery plant on the East Side. The purchase includes the office building, 8 Hammond Road, the barrel house, wax plant building, loading racks and storage tankage of a half million barrels. The company some time ago purchased a portion of the Superior plant and the continued good business of the firm has caused them to undertake an expansion program here.

The company is the largest drug manufacturing company in the country serving the independent wholesale and retail drug stores and it manufactures 250 various drug items. They also manufacture 86 various vitamin products and in the four plants of the concern employ over 600 persons.

The main plant of the company is located at Duquesne, Pa., and others are in Chicago and Brooklyn. The Brooklyn plant has just been enlarged by 40 per cent and at the Chicago plant an expansion is also under way.

The added buildings in this city will be utilized in the manufacture of drug products but as yet no announcements have been made as to what product will be made. The Warren plant at present is engaged in the manufacture of mineral oils, specializing in white oils for medicinal purposes.

Ex-Soldier Gave Police Busy Evening

Robert Stewart, 16 Deer street, Oil City, had the police running about in circles last evening as they checked up on him after he had passed out cold at the Gaughn drug store and had been rushed to the hospital. Stewart wore a soldier's uniform and claimed to be suffering from a kidney ailment but the police figure he has an attack of vivid imagination coupled with an exaggerated ego.

At the hospital Stewart told a story to the police to the effect that he had arrived in Warren by bus and was on his way to Camp Wheeler, Ga., and that he had only three days to get there. He also told of being in the Lawson city hospital and decorated his tale with figments drawn from thin air and rolled off a glib tongue.

The coppers, however, had some experience in the past with this sort of hero and called up the Oil City police. It developed that Stewart had been given a medical discharge from the army and that he had been in a jam at Oil City over a rubber check and other little things but that he wasn't wanted there by the police.

So a further check-up by the police developed the fact that Stewart had a room all paid for at a local hotel. At 11:10 he was brought to the police station and questioned, then he told another story, saying he had arrived in Warren on Tuesday. The police then had him tucked into bed with orders to do a fadeaway from Warren early this morning, or else—.

A group of kids from the East Side have been pilfering small articles and causing damage at the plant of the Warren Lamp Company. The police yesterday rounded up the kidlets and called on their parents and laid down the law. Some parental gads were laid around the offenders' legs and certain other portions of the anatomy and here's betting the kids will be good in the future.

And these things together with some unlocked doors gave the police a busy time. However, not one dog howled or trampled a garden during the past 24 hours.

County Boy Given Thrill In Plane Crash

According to information just received by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McConnell, Cobham Park road, their son, Joseph R. McConnell, of Key West, Fla., now has another thrilling experience to add to the tales of World War II.

Young McConnell was aboard a bomber forced down by motor trouble recently somewhere in the Atlantic, the plane being badly damaged, but the crew luckily escaping injury. The local boy is plane captain.

Previously it was reported in these columns that he was aboard a plane forced down late in March and rescued only after 80 hours at sea. In that landing, both plane and crew members were successfully rescued.

Another son of the above couple, Melvin J. McConnell, seaman first class, is home on leave from New York City, but will return there Friday to resume his duties.

"MISSION TO MOSCOW" AT LIBRARY FRIDAY

"Mission to Moscow," Warner Bros.' precedent-shattering screen version of the best-selling book by Joseph E. Davies, former American ambassador to the Soviet Union, will have its premiere on Friday at the Library Theatre.

The theme of "Mission to Moscow" is America's discovery, through the eyes of a typical American and his family, of the greatness of our Russian ally whose armies checked the Nazi blitz.

The picture has a very large cast with Walter Huston and Ann Harding in the starring roles of Ambassador and Mrs. Davies. Their daughter, Emlen, whose romantic meeting in Moscow with Robert Grosjean, who is now her husband and part of the story, is portrayed by lovely young Eleanor Parker, with Richard Travis playing Robert Grosjean. A large featured cast is headed by George Tobias, Oscar Homolka, Gene Lockhart and Helmut Dantine, young Austrian who scored in the recent "Edge of Darkness" as the Nazi Kommandant of Trollness.

The story opens with the famed session of the Assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva in June, 1936, centering on Haile Selassie's eloquent plea. In rapid montage the amazing pace of Axis aggression is shown—incidents in the Spanish Civil War; the Japanese invasion of China; delivery of Axis equipment to France; bombing of China, and the withdrawal of Chiang Kai-shek.

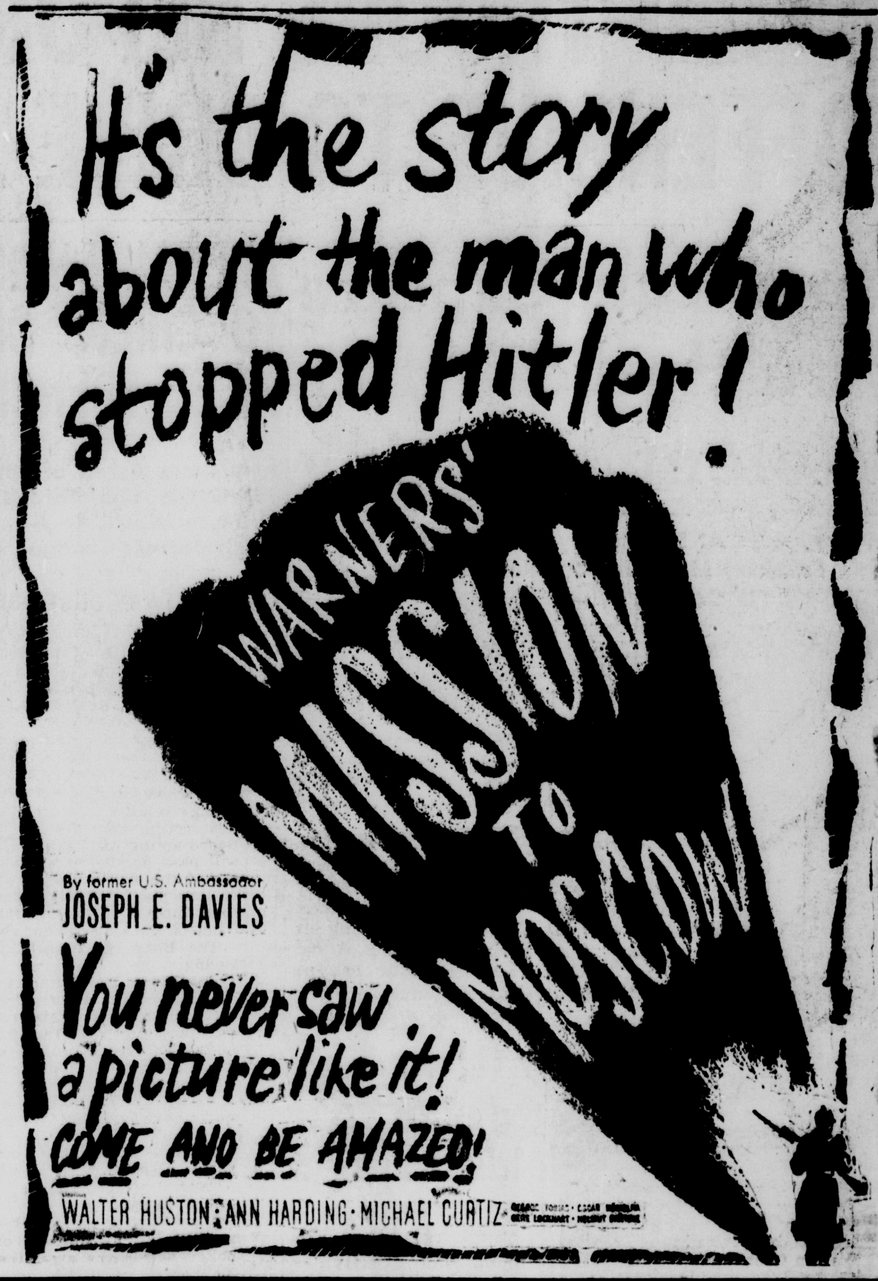

In America, Mr. Davies is hurriedly called to the White House and entrusted on an important mission to the Soviet capital. As ambassador to Russia, Roosevelt asks Mr. Davies to go to Russia and get the true facts about that country.

Manpower-Labor Commission For The Warren Labor Market is at Work

K. M. Andrews, prominent business man, has been identified with manufacturing, banking and commercial life of the community. At present he holds no place on any commercial directorates, but evinces an interest in all local problems.

Roy E. Moore, a labor representative on this committee, is secretary of Local 1328 of the International Association of Machinists and also secretary and treasurer of District Lodge No. 83 of the International Association of Machinists, AFL. Mr. Moore is employed by the Struthers-Wells Company in Warren.

George L. Craft, a management member of this committee, has been in the insurance business in Warren for the past thirty-seven years. He is also an officer or director in the following concerns: Barnhart-Davis Company, Warren Tank Car Company, DeLuze Metal Furniture Company, The Piso Company, Pennsylvania Bottle Company, Sheffield, Pa.

Harold A. Amacher, a labor representative on this committee, is president of Local No. 543, International Association of Operating Engineers, AFL. Mr. Amacher is employed by the United Refining Company.

David Levine, manager of the Warren office and non-voting chairman of the Manpower Committee, announced today the adoption of the employment stabilizing plan for Region No. 3. Adaptation—that all essential workers to whom statments of availability are issued by employers be channelized through the U. S. Employment Office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, for referral to a suitable job. S. P. Davis has been appointed stabilization officer for this area.

During the past two weeks several meetings have been held of the Advisory Board of the Warren office of the War Manpower Commission, David Levine, manager, have been held during which time the various phases of the laws and rulings relative to employment in this section were discussed. The Board acting with Manager Levine will pass on the employment status of the 4600 employes in the various plants of this vicinity and constitutes a most important adjunct of the employment situation.

The Board consists of the following:

Roy E. Moore, secretary of Local 1328 of the International Association of Machinists and also secretary and treasurer of District Lodge No. 83 of the International Association of Machinists, A. F. of L.; Harold A. Amacher, president of Local No. 543, International Association of Operating Engineers, A. F. of L.; Klahr M. Andrews, business man and interested in a number of local plants, with George L. Craft, business man and insurance agent.

In addition to advising the USES manager on all matters of WMC policy within the area, the war manpower committee will serve as emissaries of the manager in working for full cooperation of the community, labor and management in support of WMC policies.

"Ours is a community problem," Mr. Levine stressed, and one which we must solve ourselves. Thus one of the big jobs of the committee will be to inform the community—in business, in war plants, in less essential activities, and at home—of the manpower needs of this area and the reason for those needs. Once this picture is understood, I know that every citizen will do his part. We are all working for victory".

The committee will have the responsibility of informing labor and management concerning the WMC program and policies and of working for full support, Mr. Levine said.

"For our part," he continued, "the War Manpower Commission stands ready to cooperate to the limit with management and labor in solving these problems so vital to us all."

Employment Stabilization Plan of Region III, War Manpower Commission (Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware). In furtherance of the war effort and for the purpose of achieving the most effective utilization of the services of labor in essential activities, the Regional Director of the War Manpower Commission for Region III, which comprises the states of Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, with the concurrence of the Regional War Manpower Commission, hereby establishes the following plan for the Region with respect to the stabilization of employment throughout the Region:

1. All employers will make every reasonable effort to utilize the available local labor supply before resorting to the employment of workers from outside the commuting areas of their establishments and will recruit workers outside such areas only through the facilities of the U. S. Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission.

2. The movement of a worker from one place of employment to another place of employment will be subject to the following conditions:

a. An essential worker shall not be hired by an employer for work in other than an essential activity if the wage or salary rate to be paid by the employer would exceed the rate most recently earned by such worker.

b. A worker who is employed, or whose most recent employment was in other than an essential activity, may, without restriction, be hired by an employer for work in an essential activity.

c. An essential worker may be hired by another employer for work in an essential activity only upon presentation of a written "statement of availability" issued by the former employer to the effect that the worker is no longer required for work in the employer's essential activity, or, in lieu thereof, upon presentation of a "statement of abailability" issued by the U. S. Employment Service of the WMC.

d. A "statement of availability" shall be issued to an essential worker by his employer when any one or more of the following conditions is applicable:

(1) When the worker is competent to perform higher skilled work in an essential activity than his current employer is able or willing to provide.

(2) When the worker is employed for a substantial period at less than full time or is discharged by his last employer or is laid off for an indefinite period or for a period of 7 or more days.

(3) When the distance between worker's residence and the place of employment is unreasonably great (considering the restrictions on the use of gasoline and tires and the availability of reasonable transportation facilities) and the place of prospective employment is substantially closer or more accessible.

(4) When the worker is employed under working conditions substantially less favorable than those prevailing in the community for the kind of work on which he is engaged.

(5) When the worker has compelling personal reasons for wishing to change his employment.

e. If a "statement of availability" is not issued by an employer when any one of the five conditions set forth above is applicable with respect to the employment of a particular worker, the U. S. Employment Service of the WMC, after ascertaining that one or more of the conditions is applicable, will issue a "statement of availability."

3. No employer shall hire any in-migrant worker except upon referral from the local employment office of the WMC in the area in which the employer offers employment. No in-migrant worker shall be referred for employment by a local employment office of the WMC unless such worker presents a "statement of availability" issued by the local employment office of the WMC in the area in which he is presently or was most recently employed.

4. Cases of non-adherence to, or disputed application of, the policies hereby established shall be referred to the War Manpower Commission representative who shall make a decision thereon and shall attempt to secure agreement with the decision by all parties concerned. If anyq party concerned is dissatisfied with the decision of the representative, he may request review of the same by the Area War Manpower Committee or a labor-management panel designated for this purpose which shall, in accordance with prescribed procedures, make appropriate recommendations to the WMC representative and initiate such review of its recommendations by the Regional Director or the Regional War Manpower Committee as may be proper.

5. Employers' advertisements for workers will include the following:

a. A statement that "workers now employed in essential activities will not be considered."

b. The name of the employer when the advertisement does not include reference to the use of the facilities of the U. S. Employment Service of the WMC by the employer.

6. Employer will utilize to the greatest extent feasible the training facilities of the War Manpower Commission, particularly those established for the upgrading of workers and for vocational on-the-job training, and will employ trainees in vocational courses only through the U. S. Employment Service of the WMC.

Sportsmen Are Urged To Help Ease Shortage of Farm Labor

Pennsylvanians gunning for woodchucks and angling for bass as the two seasons opened today were urged by the State Game Commission to take advantage of being in the country to work on farms part of the time to ease the labor shortage.

Asserting farmers would be glad to get help, Seth Gordon, commission director, said in an interview at Harrisburg that in return farmers might transport hunters from railroad stations to hunting and fishing spots. Automobile driving for hunting or fishing purposes is banned by the OPA.

Both woodchucks and bass were reported plentiful. Gordon said farmers in northern Pennsylvania "are anxious for hunters to come and kill woodchucks" because of damage done their fields. Fish Commissioner Charles A. French reported prospects good for bass although recent rains have muddied some streams.

The bag limits are six bass per day, nine inches or longer, and five 'chucks daily with hunting ending each day at 8:30 p. m. The bass season ends Nov. 30 and the woodchuck season Sept. 30.

Gordon suggested hunters ask Landowners' permission to dig woodchucks out of holes, adding "that way they can get some good meat without firing a shot." Gordon has said, that the ammunition shortage may lead to rationing.

Oregon Radio "Salute" of Interest to Local Citizens

A broadcast of local interest was staged over Station KOIN, Portland, Ore., June 23rd, on what is called the "Timber" radio program, honoring the Kinzua Pine Mills Company, in which a number of Warren citizens are interested. The "Salute" follows:

The Kinzua Pine Mills Company was incorporated in May, 1927, by E. D. Wetmore, president, and associates, Warren, Pennsylvania. Plant was built in 1927-28, sawmill started operation October 24, 1928. In fourteen years, eight months since the plant started it has been in operation every month of every year which establishes a record for continuous operation in the Pine Industry. Mr. J. F. Coleman, first vice president and general manager, has considered a corporation has a public responsibility to provide continuous employment to its employees.

Principle operation is logging, manufacturing lumber, and re-manufacturing shop type lumber into such items as frames, sash, and right now an ammunition box that demands a high degree of refinement.

The Kinzua Pine Mills Company owns or controls over 100,000 acres of Pine timberland. Every acre of logged lands is kept under the ownership of the company under active re-forestration practices and management. Every acre is being grazed by sheep and cattle, thus not only is the land growing trees but also is raising the poundage of thousands of sheep and cattle for public consumption. By keeping each acre on the tax rolls the logged-off land does not become a burden to the citizens of the county and state.

An efficient fire organization is maintained as a "flying squad" to travel into any part of the forest upon short notice to put any fire under control quickly. Adequate fire roads are maintained during the season so a short hike will put the fire fighters on the fire line in any area of the forest.

Carl Coleman, woods superintendent, being active in Northwest forestry organizations and affairs, keeps abreast of the best in forest management practices. In a recent study it was found that 1942 was a record production year in this 100 per cent kiln dried lumber operation. Lumber production in 1942 was 3 per cent over 1941, 14½ per cent over 1940. What is more important is that the first five months of 1943 shows the level of production as being 8 per cent over the record year of 1942. All this lumber, of course, goes directly into the war program activities.

Out of an average 400 employees 165 employees at Kinzua owe their jobs to the high utilization practiced here through the re-manufacturing of the cutting type lumber. By reason of this diversification and refinement of the lumber product this plant utilizes lumber to a high degree. More man-hours per thousand board feet produced because of the re-manufacturing. Most lumber plants in the Northwest do not have the advantage of this highly important department.

Mr. A. B. Coleman is plant superintendent, having the responsibility of maintaining a high production of good quality lumber for all war purposes.

Traditional Treat On Fourth Expensive

Pittsburgh, July 1.—(AP)—Many families will have to go without their traditional July Fourth treat—watermelon—this year—that is, unless they want to pay upwards of $2.

One wholesaler who has been selling melons since 1907 said the price now i s higher than at any time in his career. The family-size melon brings the wholesaler about $1.50 or $1.60, he said. By the time it leaves the retailers' hands, the price is $2 to $2.10.

A curb market retailer said he is now selling 150 melons a week. Last year he sold about 600 a week.

Produce men blame the government order which considers watermelons a non-essential food. A smaller crop was planted this year because the planters feared there wouldn't be a market, they said.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ALL-FAMILY ADVERTISING

"Everyone in America reads the daily newspapers," said C. E. Phillips of the Rockford, Ill., Star, to the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association lately.

"The war news, accompanied by action pictures, brings the whole world to the front door of every family. A total of 42,744,000 daily newspapers are sold to families and individuals in the United States every day, and the penny and nickel investment runs into a daily total of $1,300,000. No other advertising medium can compete with the steady public interest and support that is given to newspapers."

"It is even more true in the small city than in the great metropolitan centers, that everyone reads the newspapers," reminds an exchange.

The whole family gets a glance at the late news. Then every individual has his favorite comic and his favorite column. It may be amazing, but is true, that most of the family look at the editorial page, which is the heart of the paper. That's where they see and feel the attitude of the paper towards its community, and through it also the attitude of their community towards the nation and the world.

From the littlest folks who like the sound and feel of tearing paper, up to Grandpa who has seen three wars and spells of peace and knows what the paper ought to print, and tells the editor if it doesn't suit him, the whole family gets a whack at it. Mother gets the latest points, sister the society, and the boys eat up the army news.

So it's great stuff for the advertisers. And the clever ones are turning out advertisements these days which no one in the family wants to miss.

CAN AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE

To can or not to can—that is the question many housewives will ask themselves this summer as Victory garden vegetables ripen.

Home economics and vegetable garden specialists at the Pennsylvania State College help the housewife decide what to do by outlining four ways in which food may be preserved.

Freezing is a new and especially good method for retaining the flavor, color, and vitamins of most vegetables and fruits, they say. If there is a freezer-locker plant in your community, be sure to use it. Prepare the vegetables as for cooking, and blanch in steam for two minutes before packing, the specialists advise. Frozen foods hold up well for at least nine months. Ice cream cabinets may be used to store and freeze the food if the temperature is maintained at zero degrees or lower.

If you do not have access to a commercial freezer-locker, can as much as possible. Unless you are an expert canner and have used the open kettle or hot bath method many times, the safest way for canning meats and all vegetables except tomatoes is to use a pressure cooker. The government suggests community canning for economical use of those cookers available, and promises to release some more in the canning season.

Dehydration is less satisfactory than freezing or canning, but it may be used to care for the surplus. Blanch before drying. Home driers may be easily constructed from plans put out by the College.

Many vegetables may be stored in their natural condition in cellars or outdoor pits. Root vegetables, and those which take a long time to mature, store better than quickly-maturing vegetables. Storage conditions for different kinds of vegetables vary in temperature and humidity factors.

What It Means

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Features Writer

WASHINGTON—Don't get too excited if the government seems to be nicking your pay check for a bigger (or a smaller) income tax than you would have contributed under the old method of collection.

The pay-as-you-go plan will result in some wage earners temporarily paying more taxes than they actually owe. A larger number, for the time being, will pay less than they owe. Uncle Sam, however, will square up with both groups next March.

(This is entirely separate, of course, from the unabated 25 per cent of one year's taxes—1942 or 1943, whichever is lower—which are to be paid half on March 15, 1944, and half on March 15, 1945.)

Same Tax Rates

Tax rates on 1943 income are the same as they were on 1942 income. The new law only changes the method of collecting taxes. Temporary over-payments and under-payments result from efforts to simplify the withholding process.

One reason for this is the wage-bracket method of withholding taxes. A levy of 20 per cent on wages above $12 a week for single persons, $24 a week for married persons (plus $6 for each dependent) is the basic withholding rate. But employers may, if they desire, use government tables which specify the withholding amount for each wage bracket. The idea is to make their bookkeeping easier.

For example, John Smith (married and no children) has a wage of $60 a week. He will contribute the same amount, $8.20 a week, as Bill Brown, a $69-per-week man with the same family status. Inequalities like this will be adjusted in complete returns on 1943 income which taxpayers must make as usual by next March 15.

Deductions Vary

If a wage earner has contributed more tax than he actually owes, the collector of revenue will then give him a refund. If he owes more tax than has been withheld, he will have to pay the difference.

Another reason for temporary overpayment and underpayment is that the withholding plan makes specific allowance for only one deduction — personal exemption based on family status. A "statistical" allowance is made for the average deduction, but wage earners with unusually large deductions may be overtaxed and those with very small credits may be undertaxed temporarily.

The new system is on the complicated side, but the thing to remember is that the withholding levy aims at collecting from current income a sum roughly approximating actual tax liability. And liability is based on the same tax rates and the same allowances for exemptions and deductions as you used in making out your return last March.

Extra Bookkeeping For Some

Certain classes of taxpayers, however, will have to do some extra bookkeeping this year. Single persons receiving wages figured to exceed $2,700 and married persons receiving wages of more than $3,500 must estimate their tax liability above the withholding amount (plus 1943 March and June payments) on September 15 and pay the excess then and on Dec. 15. After this year, excess settlements will be made quarterly—on the 15th of March, June, September and December.

Persons who receive their income from business, professions, rents, dividends, etc., instead of from wages and salaries, likewise must file a tax estimate Sept. 15 and pay in quarterly installments.

A wage earner who receives more than $100 income from sources other than his wages, also must estimate his tax liability above the withholding amount.

If a taxpayer's estimate is more than 20 per cent under his liability, he has to pay a penalty. However, a taxpayer who thinks he has made an error in his Sept. 15 declaration can make an amended estimate on December 15.

If his amended estimate is 80 per cent correct (66 2/3 per cent in case of farmers) he can escape a penalty.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Confusion reigns again in Selective Service—or perhaps I should say still.

In spite of all the conflicting statements, warnings and whatnot, my advice to fathers is: "Quit worrying."

Even if fathers have to be called to swell the armed forces to the outside limits now planned for this year, it could hardly mean more than the draft of one in six or seven—in other words not more than 800,000 to 900,000 of the nearly 6,000,000 men who were fathers before Pearl Harbor.

WHAT the future will bring in the way of casualties to be replaced or increasing the size of the Army to overcome changing military situations can't even be guessed at now. However, once the military forces goal is reached, there will be no further drain on married men, with child dependents, to keep it there.

So far as I have heard here, there has been no testimony given before Congressional committees or public statements made that we would need more than 300,000 men a month the last six months of the year to bring the armed forces to the limits set by our military leaders. Some testimony and a good many guesses, mine along with the rest, are that it won't be that many.

It has been declared definitely that the draft of fathers will not start before October. If at that time, the manpower pool of other classes has been drained completely, which is a possibility but unlikely, then 900,000 fathers would be needed. But there are around 100,000 young men a month reaching draft age and those physically fit in this group will make further inroads on father requirements.

IT WOULD be something of a joke on a good many officials if it all turned out to be one of our better teapot tempests.

At the outset, it was apparent that to go on pyramiding our military forces to gigantic proportions would be to make a stupid mistake. Even at this writing, there are hints from some military officials here that our Army is already big enough.

That is logical. This year we will have managed to send about 2,000,000 men overseas. Suppose, with shipping limitations considerably expanded, we could double that number. We still would have another couple of million men in training in this country, and most of them would have been in training a year, or two, by the end of 1944—far longer than streamlined training methods today take to turn out first-class fighting men.

Whether we would ever need that many overseas is another question.

With our Allies rapidly expanding in numbers as inroads are made into the conquered nations (as for example the 300,000 to 400,000 picked up in North Africa) and needing only equipment to fight for their native soil, it is possible that we will have more manpower than will ever be necessary to fight the battle of Europe—and more than we, and our Allies, could ever supply, even with unlimited shipping.

In any event, all the furore about military manpower soon will be over—the armed forces virtually frozen, drawing only on the 18-year-olds when they come of age, if drawing on any at all.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923

The Beaty playground is now in full swing and the people in general are delighted at the good time the kiddies are having. Miss Alice Larson and W. J. Hoff have been secured to assist in the program. Under the leadership of Miss Margaret Kemp a definite program is being outlined.

---

The bass season is scheduled to open on July 1 but as that falls on Sunday the fishermen must be good until the clock strikes midnight. From all indications this will be a good season. All fish must be over eight inches and not more than 12 can be taken in any one day.

---

It is estimated that 12,000,000 golf balls wil be used in this country during the present season. Plenty are being used on the local courses. About 25% of the balls used are imported from England and Scotland.

---

Twenty-three boys of the Lutheran congregation hopped off in cars today for the camp on Sherman's Bay. They were accompanied by two caterers, two assistant directors and the Rev. C. A. Dennig, camp director. Visitors are welcome at any time but must bring their own lunches.

---

There will be a community picnic in Charles Newton's woods on Jackson run July 4th. There is a fine grove and good water and all are invited to enjoy the outing.

---

Warren county will receive $31,605 for relief this month from the state funds. Much of this is spent for necessities for needy children. An appropriation is also received from the state each month for milk for the kiddies.

---

The Grand Union Grocery store is advertising tomatoes—three pounds for 25c and cantaloupes three for a quarter. Watermelons bring 49c.

---

Two former members of the CCC camp at Leeper have been arrested for the theft of an automobile from Charles A. Lantz, of Ludlow. Camp officers saw the boys driving the car shortly after one of them had been discharged from the camp as a trouble maker.

---

Warren county authorities have been notified that a person or persons had entered the barn of Walter Donelson, near Columbus and asset of harness, two horse collars and other articles taken.

---

H. H. Brunner will open a lunch room in the room formerly occupied by the Leonardson Company at Sheffield. He will serve lunches and good food will be the rule.

Youngsville Library Plans Two Tag Days

Youngsville, July 1.—Youngsville Public Library Association is sponsoring Tag Days this week. The library is filling a real need in the community. It is being used quite freely but the present plan of a dollar a year library dues is not sufficient for the necessary expense in keeping up a library room, employing a librarian, and buying new books. There have been some donations from various sources but more money is needed so the Tag Day plan is now under way and will open on Friday afternoon and continue on Saturday of this week.

Mrs. Gilbert Sanford is chairman of the Tag Day committee and she will be assisted by several young ladies. Youngsville folks are requested to keep this in mind and generously accept the opportunity to be tagged for such a worthy cause.

If there are any in town not familiar with the library room, just step into the attractive room on Main street. Notice when you are there the reading table and books on the shelves. If you have never joined the Library Association, pay your dues. If there is some new book you would like to see in the library, mention this to the librarian or to Mrs. Flora McDowell or Mrs. G. E. Mix. The library seeks to please varying tastes and as far as their funds will go are giving to Youngsville the best library service they can.

Don't forget the Library Tag Days Friday and Saturday of this week, July 2nd and 3rd, and give the Library a generous collection.

COLE HILL

Cole Hill, June 28—Children's Day exercises were held Sunday in the Torpedo Sunday school at 10:30 a. m. A fine program was given.

A few friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. Jennie McConnell at Torepdo, Tuesday June 22nd to help her celebrate her birthday. She received some nice flowers as gifts and also many cards.

Miss Joan Covell who has been a patient in Hamot Hospital in Erie has returned to her home on Davy Hill. She is still under the doctors care.

Miss Phyllis Ransom of West Spring Creek was visiting her friend Miss Alice Holmes of the Garland-Torpedo road last Wednesday and Thursday.

Because of the funeral of Mrs. Cornelius Curtin last Thursday afternoon the Willing Workers was postponed until July 8th, when they will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Palmer at Torpedo.

Harold Martin celebrated his birthday Saturday evening, June 26th, with a party. About seventy guests were present. Luncheon was served, including several cakes. His sister, Mrs. Bernice McChesney, baked the birthday cake with candles and decorations. Mrs. Ellis Martin, whose birthday will be next Tuesday, June 29th, was also honored with a birthday cake and gifts at the party..

Mrs. Harold McConnell and son, Henry, of Torpedo, have gone to Sacramento, Calif., to visit Major Harold McConnell, who is stationed there.

Mrs. Clara Palmer celebrated her birthday Sunday, June 27th at her home in Torpedo, with a birthday dinner, including a birthday cake. She also received many nice gifts and cards.

Mrs. Bertha Gamble, of Youngsville, was visiting Mrs. Jennie McConnell at Torpedo Saturday, and also visited her niece, Mrs. Lillian Camp, of this place.

Mrs. Walter Peterson, of the Garland-Torpedo road, entertained last Wednesday, June 23rd, for her sister, Miss Dorothy Goodwill, of Garland. The occasion was Dorothy's thirteenth birthday. A two course luncheon was served, including a beautiful birthday cake baked by Mrs. Peterson. Eight girls were present, including Miss Phyllis Ransom, of West Spring Creek. Games were played, prizes going to Miss Pauline Zolko and Miss Phyllis Ransom.

Mrs. Ed Williams, of the Garland-Torpedo road, celebrated her birthday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Susie Cartwright, at Newton, Sunday, June 27th. She received some nice gifts and cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hanks, of Corry, were visitors Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams.

Word has come from Ellis Williams that he is at 11 Station Hospital, Camp Crowder, Missouri.

CAP Makes Promotions In Its Ranks

Several new appointments and promotions have been made in the personnel of the Civil Air Patrol at recent meetings.

Captain Edward Walker, group commander, appointed Lt. Fred A. Schuler to the group staff as executive officer and Sgt. Richard D. Metzger was appointed squadron commander with the rank of lieutenant. Lt. Metzger will succeed Lt. Schuler, who has been squadron commander for some time. Further promotions and appointments were made within Squadron 53 by Lt. Metzger, as follows: Warren M. Stone, executive and training operations officer; Barbara B. Cook, adjutant and personnel offcer; Glenn R. Mickelson, communications officer, and Ned Johnson, intelligence and public relations officer. All of these officers will hold the rank of sergeant. Robert Jewell was appointed deputy training and operations officer with the rank of corporal. Lt. Ellsworth Wright will continue on the staff as supply and transportation officer.

The Army Air Force has just given the Civil Air Patrol a new assignment in the form of enlisting aviation cadets for the Air Force. Any male between the ages of seventeen and twenty-six, in sound physical and mental condition, who is interested in enlisting is requested to call at Room 510 in the Warren National Bank building where officers of the Civil Air Patrol will be in charge to receive recruits. Room 510 is the official enlistment headquarters and will be open each Thursday evening beginning July 8, 1943.

Kinzua Will Celebrate On Next Monday

Kinzua, July 1—The residents of this community are planning an old fashioned Fourth of July celebration to be held at the community house on Monday, July 5. Rev. H. L. Johnson, pastor of the local Methodist church, has been named chairman for the event.

The activities will start with a parade at 12:30, followed by games and races scheduled to take place on Mill street. There will be roller skating in the community house in the afternoon and, at 5:30 a community picnic supper will be held on the lawn. The committee advises that in case of rain this feature will be moved indoors in the community house.

All residents of the town are cordially invited and expected to attend and make the affsir a success.

Penney Store Opens Drive During July

In common with all of the hundreds of J. C. Penney Stores over the United States the Warren store this morning opened its campaign for the sale of stamps and bonds during the month of July. The store has been decorated in a patriotic manner and a booth has been arranged with Miss Liberty in charge and the campaign goal is the selling of sufficient stamps and bonds to purchase 20 ambulances for the U. S. services.

This will be the second campaign of the Penney store and in the one held several months ago the state banner for Pennsylvania was awarded to the Warren store for overselling its quota and four of the employes were awarded prizes for their outstanding work.

The drive of the Penney stores is in line with the retail merchants campaign throughout the nation to sell a record breaking amount of stamps and bonds. Solicitation is being carried on by all the store employes and it is anticipated that the goal will be oversubscribed in good shape.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Ray Weigle, seaman first class, U. S. Coast Guard, left last evening for Savannah, Ga., after spending a ten-day furlough in Erie and Warren, visiting relatives and friends and attending the wedding in Oil City of his brother, Jack Weigle, yeoman second class, stationed at Sampson, N. Y.

Edward A. Kohler, aviation cadet, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Kohler, of North Warren, has been transferred to University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill after completing a four-month course at Muhlenberg College.

Pfc. Fred Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peterson, 8 Sixth avenue, has been promoted to corporal at McChord Field, Wash.

Cpl. Ralph J. Papalia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Papalia, has returned to his post at Fort Monroe, Va., after spending an eight-day furlough at home with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Headlund, Irvine street, have received word that their son Cpl. Irving Headlund, of the U. S. Marines, has been promoted to sergeant. Sgt. Headlund was one of the Warren boys who was in the battle for Guadalcanal.

Gene Alden Walker Is Wednesday Bride Of Clare J. Crary

Mrs. Herbert Graham Walker, of Louisville, Ky., announces the marriage of her daughter, Gene Alden Walker, of Warren and New York, to Clare J. Crary, 508 Liberty street, this city.

The marriage was solemnized at 9:45 a. m. Wednesday, June 30, in Trinity Memorial Episcopal church by Rev. E. P. Wroth.

Mr. and Mrs. Crary have left for an eastern wedding trip and will spend the greater portion of the summer on Cape Cod, where Mrs. Crary has painted many of the works which have won her widespread fame in eastern art exhibits.

Recital Program By Dance Pupils Successful Event

Reflecting real credit on its sponsors and those who performed, the beautiful recital given last night at the high school auditorium held the undivided attention of a large audience from eight until eleven o'clock.

The program, varied with solos and teams, was indicative of the instruction being given by Katherine Dawn Williams in her ballet and acrobatic dancing classes.

Unusual lighting effects enhanced the very attractive costuming, again an indication of the many hours of untiring labor put into production of such a performance. From the tiniest tot to the teacher, herself, every dancer appeared to perfection in the number assigned for interpretation.

The soil of Manchoukuo is among the richest in the world.

Dr. John S. Stewart And Bride at Home to Many Friends In Erie

Dr. John S. Stewart, younger son of Major and Mrs. Paul B. Stewart, of Warren and Ardmore, Okla., and his bride, the former Annie Marguirette Rainwater, of Florence, S. C., have completed a northward honeymoon by coastal points and are at home to their friends at 504 Lincoln avenue, Erie, where the former is interning at St. Vincent's Hospital.

Their marriage took place at 8 p. m. June 19 in the First Baptist church in Florence, the double ring ceremony solemnized by Dr. Howard L. Weeks. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Rainwater, was given in marriage by her brother, James Madison Rainwater, and attended by Mrs. Fred Anthony Pace, of Long Island, as matron of honor; her sister, Dorothy Lee Rainwater, as maid of honor, and her small nephew, Jimmy Rainwater, as ring bearer. Her white duchesse satin gown was fashioned with lengthy train, silk net with point applique forming the overskirt and train. Fresh orange blossoms held her finger length veil and a white orchid centered her gladioli bouquet. For "something old" she wore a matching pair of antique gold bracelets, the wedding gift the bridegroom's grandfather, the late Dr. Richard B. Stewart, gave to his bride 62 years ago.

Richard S. Stewart, of Cleveland, O., was his brother's best man. Usher-groomsmen were Ed. Sallenger, Jr., Dr. J. H. Stokes, Russ Holt, Ed Peck, W. M. Abrams and Kenneth Grimsley.

A reception followed immediately at the bride's home, where Major and Mrs. Paul B. Stewart were in the receiving line. Among the guests were Mrs. Richard Stewart, of Cleveland; Mrs. Julia McLachlan, St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Warren.

The bride attended Cokey College, where she was graduated magna cum laude, was president of the senior class, was chosen May Queen in 1942 and appeared in Who's Who Among University and College Women for 1941 and 1942.

Dr. Stewart was graduated from Duke University and Temple Medical School and was commissioned a lieutenant in the U. S. Army before going to St. Vincent's to intern.

NEW HOFF STUDENTS

Starting their business course at the Hoff Business College for the new term are the following: Doris Crane, Corry; Geraldine Lindberg and Louise Nelson, Ludlow; Patty Coe, Patty Knapp and Rowell Hoff, Warren.

CANCEL REUNION

Joining the ranks of others who have already made such announcements, the Garber family states it will cancel its annual reunion this year because of existing wartime conditions. The date for the affair was to have been the second Sunday in August.

DAM FLIES FLAG

The personnel of the Tionesta dam of the flood control program is proud of the fact that with Old Glory they are also flying the Minute Man flag showing 100% participation in the buying of War Bonds. Better than 12% of the salaries of the employes at the dam are being turned into bonds.

PICTURE GETS ATTENTION

A photograph displayed in the window of the Warren National Bank is winning much attention as it shows James A. Keller, of this city, astride a camel on a tour to the pyramids in Egypt. Keller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Keller and is serving with the American forces at Cairo, Egypt.

SAW BIG BEAR

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Deshner, of Mayburg, while on their way to this city to do some shopping recently, received a rare thrill when a big black bear crossed the road just ahead of their car. The bear never hesitated on account of the car, but loped across the road and clambered up an embankment, disappearing into the woods.

BUSY PICKING PEAS

While there has been no hegira to the farms of the county by the boys and girls of the upper grades of the borough schools in response to the demand for farm workers, numbers of the pupils are engaged in picking peas and doing similar work. The pupils enrolled for the work before school closed and when needed are sent a postal card summoning them to work.

OF INTEREST HERE

Inasmuch as Warren is one of the towns in the state where parking meters are operated, it is of particular interest here to know that the State Supreme Court has decided that the meters are legal. Adding to the interest here is the fact that Judge William M. Parker, of Oil City, wrote the opinion which covers eight pages. It marked the first time the legality of the parking meter ordinance has been before the Supreme Court.

MOVIES AND TALK

Kiwanians enjoyed a double program at their weekly luncheon-meeting at the Hotel Carver Wednesday, hearing an informal talk by Cpl. Robert Field, home from active duty in the foreign field, and seeing the Bell Aircraft movie "Cannon on Wings". President H. W. Ledebur announced the following program committee for July: H. D. Baker, chairman; Dr. Frank Cummins, Rev. H. L. Knappenberger, Addison White; also these sergeants for July: C. L. Guignon, R. M. Ross and Ray Johnson.

SHUT DOWN TODAY

Due to the fact that the S. & T. Railroad is being taken up and disposed of, the Mayburg Chemical Company closed down today, the blowing of the whistle last night betokened the closing down of the plant which has been in operation continuously since 1912. The plant is one of the largest chemical companies in the United States and turned out 1/20th of all Pennsylvania's charcoal. Employes of the company are seeking jobs elsewhere and the closing of the plant will be a severe blow to the Tionesta Valley and its effect will also be felt in Sheffield.

SUPPLY PASTORS NAMED

Permission has been granted the Rev. Harold C. Warren, pastor of First Presbyterian church, for several weeks of study at the University of Pittsburgh. The pulpit supply committee of the session has invited the Rev. E. D. Pires of Beaver, to occupy the pulpit on Sunday morning. Others who have accepted the committee's invitation to preach during the summer months are: The Rev. Benjamin Bunn Royer, of Franklin; Rev. C. E. Reed, stated clerk of Erie Presbytery; Rev. Anderson Schofield, of Gouverneur, New York; and the Rev. J. Stuart Dickson, of Paradise.

TIMES TOPICS

MORE TRAINING PLAN

Counties of the state that muffed the recent air raid test in a bad way will get more training on the state's air raid warning system. About 20 counties, including Erie and other counties in this section, missed the test. The State Council of Defense will distribute literature necessary to develop background for pretended incidents to be used in drills. Warren county with its finely trained defense system is not included in the backward group.

SAVES TIRES

The local ration board is in receipt of a copy of a telegram sent out by Director W. M. Jeffers to the OPA at Washington. It asks that ration boards perform their duty in holding down mileage and added "we will be making synthetic rubber but there will inevitably be some delay in fabricating it into passenger car tires because of the shortage of facilities, manpower and equipment." He asked motorists to adhere to the request to have their tires recapped early enough so that they do not have to ask for new tires.

SONG PREMIERE

"Two-single Very Low" is the name of a new song composed by Sheridan Baker, of Lottsville, which will have its first public hearing over WJTN at Jamestown Friday night, 11:30-12:00, with Phil Harlow and His Orchestra. The introduction will be made in connection with a service man's dance at the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Jamestown and part of that city's gigantic Fourth of July rally. The number was written with the army aircraft warning service in mind and is being dedicated to the aircraft spotters. Local friends will be interested in the fact that the title page of the published song was made from a painting done by Leal Mack, local artist and illustrator.

Major and Mrs. H. C. Kerlin will leave tomorrow for the former's station at Camp Shelby, Miss., after a vacation spent with Mrs. Kerlin's mother, Mrs. Maude Lavery, and other relatives in town. Miss Joan Lavery will accompany them for a two weeks visit.

Pvt. Gabriel Chimenti, who returned to Grove City College three weeks ago to continue his studies under the war training program, is home on a short furlough before reporting July 9 to Fort Meade, Md., from where he will be assigned to Georgetown University for further study.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mrs. John Hamm, who passed away three years ago today

Mother

Though death has separated us and keeps us miles apart,
Through all the years it's somehow clear,
We're right next door at heart, time and space cannot erase the thoughts so kind and true,
That take their way on memories day across the miles to you.

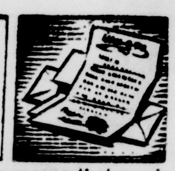

Her Children.

LOSER TAKE ALL

By Adelaide Hazeltine

Chapter 22

Trembling Ann made her way back to her room the image of Jerry holding Sarah in his arms photographed forever in her memory.

And she thought she misled him that evening on the terrace!

"A kissing game," indeed. Why should she be ashamed now she knew he played the same game with them all.

She reminded herself to tell him so at her first opportunity; reminded herself to forget him, too.

Though she hadn't admitted it, ever, until this moment there had always been a small seed of hope in her heart. She knew he was deceiving her about the will. She knew it was dishonest of him. But she kept finding excuses for that, excuses which in time could clear him in her own eyes.

Nothing could clear him now. To tamper with a will was one thing. To tamper with love was quite another.

No, Jerry Lane was without honor both in business and in love. He was not for her.

She told herself she shouldn't grieve over the loss of something she'd never had. She chided herself with all the names in the dictionary which meant she was stupid and foolish.

At last she wept. Not as a child cries for a lost toy but as a woman cries for a lost love.

She couldn't face the guests in the dining room for dinner. She'd have a tray sent up and go early to bed.

But you can't sleep when your small but important world has crashed around you. You can walk the floor, talk to yourself and Matilda. Then when the four walls become intolerable you can go through the lobby, hoping to get outside without being seen by anyone, outside where you can think.

As if anywhere in the world she could find an answer to the problem of Terrence House and the misery in her own soul.

She hadn't meant to look in the library. Jerry and Sarah would be gone long ago. But as a murderer is drawn to the scene of the crime her eyes turned involuntarily to the doorway.

The room was dim with indirect lights and in the dimness she saw Jerry. Alone this time and stooping down to the hearth.

As she watched a little blaze flared briefly, etching his profile against the flame.

It was the flame that snapped the last taught nerve in her body.

"Jerry!" The word started to be a gasp and ended in a scream. She ran toward him, her eyes wide with what she feared and what she saw!

He seemed too startled to move. He remained one knee on the hearth, his fingers holding the corner of a burning paper, a long folded paper very much like the one he pulled from Grand Gussie's hand vase.

"Jerry! Stop!"

He turned the paper so the flame ran up to it. When the fire licked his hands he dropped the charred remains to the grate.

"That . . . that was . . . the will!" Color drained from her face and she sank to the sofa.

He pulled a fresh handkerchief from his uniform pocked, unfolded it with maddening deliberateness, wiped his fingers. Standing there before her with the last flicker from the paper dancing on the gold of his buttons she thought he was the most handsome man she'd ever seen. The most handsome and the most despicable.

"I suppose it wouldn't do any good to deny that was the will?" he said at last.

"It . . . it wouldn't matter. It's too late for anything to matter now."

"The house means that much to you?"

"Of course it does," she said numbly. "Now will you go and leave me alone."

"I could resent that request since it was you who intruded."

"A criminal always resents being caught."

"You hate me, don't you?"

"No, hate is too mild," her voice threatened to crack. She added, "For a . . . thief."

"You called it grand larceny at first. That was more polite. Is there anything I can say to make you believe that scrap of paper was burned for your own good?"

"For my own good!" Her voice did break now. "For my own good? So you're a hypocrite, too!"

She began to laugh. Then she began to cry. She tried to stop but every breath brought a new rush of high hysterical laughter and a torrent of tears.

Jerry spoke to her, put his hands on her shoulder and shook her as he might shake a naughty child.

But she laughed on, was still laughing with tears when he swept her into his arms, strode out of the room and headed for the back wing. She remembered that much, remembered the feel of his arms around her. Then everything went black.

84TH ANNIVERSARY OF MRS. EDWARD TINGWALL

At a family party held last evening, Mrs. Edward Tingwall, 9 Bradley street, celebrated her 84th birthday anniversary. A luncheon table set for 16 was centered with a lovely birthday cake and bowl of roses. In addition to attractive remembrances presented to the honored guest, she was the recipient of best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Axel Tingwall, Mrs. Oscar Tingwall, Mildred Tingwall, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tingwall and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Beyer and children, Mabel Tingwall, Theodore Van Valzen.

WOMAN'S CLUB EVENT IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Despite the colder weather which made necessary a move indoors, the garden party held yesterday afternoon by the Woman's Club at the home of Miss Anna G. Rockwell proved very successful. There were about 100 members and friends to enjoy the pleasant afternoon of cards and the tea hour.

Presiding at the attractive tea table were Mrs. J. H. Goldstein, chairman of the Entertainment Committee of the club, and Mrs. J. W. A. Luce, co-chairman. The $25 War Bond awarded during the afternoon became the property of Miss Montana Knupp.

ANNUAL PICNIC

The Little Heralds and Mothers Circle of the First Evangelical church will hold its annual picnic at twelve o'clock tomorrow at the South Side playground, each mother to bring a table service, tureen, sandwiches, sugar and whatever liquid refreshment she wishes for her child. The church is providing coffee and ice cream. All members and friends ae welcome and a large attendance is hoped for.

WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Womans Missionary Society of the First Evangelical Church will meet this evening at 7:30 in the church parlors and it is anticipated that there will be a large attendance. Following the devotionals the lesson will be given by Mrs. Walter North and at the conclusion of the meeting refreshments will be served by the Misses Mabel and Edith Offerle and Mrs. Floyd Carter.

MISSION BAND

The Junior Mission Band of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet at the church at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with Jon Pearson as host.

TREE NURSERIES

Harrisburg, July 1—A total of 1,643,250 game-food plants and trees were raised during the last years in the State Department of Forests and Waters tree nurseries for planting at state game lands.

SEEDLINGS

Harrisburg, July 1—The state department of forests and waters distributed 58,853,046 forest tree seedlings during the last four years. Of that total, 13,888,973 were planted at state forest areas.

Fourth of Timber Supply In State Surrendered to Waste

Harrisburg, July 1—Only two generations of trees have elapsed since the original Thirteen Colonies won their fight for Independence, Secretary of Forests and Waters James A. Kell pointed out today in an Independence Day message.

"But should Pennsylvania be required by request to abandon one-fourth of her territory to another sovereign power, it would meet with instant disapproval and high indignation," Kell said.

"Yet as great an economic loss has been suffered for many years by Pennsylvania with respect to the wealth and the productive value of our forest lands."

Secretary Kell asserted that forestry is intimately connected with general prosperity and depends largely upon the efforts put forth by each land owner of the Commonwealth to make every acre of forest land productive.

Kell said that the present war has brought many new demands for wood and a realization that wood is a vital resource for national defense. He urged wiser use of the forests, "not only now but during" the post-war period.

"At the time of the American Revolution," he said, "Pennsylvania was well wooded. From its forests came its name—'Penn's Woods'. Relatively little of the original timber had been cut up to the middle of the last century.

"But during the next fity years, up to 1899, the lumber cut grew steadily and the rapid deletion of our forest resources was the order of the day.

"It is quite true, therefore, that we have literally abandoned one-fourth of our territory to a foreign sovereign power.

"That power is forest waste in all its forms: permitting fires to burn, and to re-burn, our forest lands; neglecting to plant trees on land which is not adapted for agriculture, and the failure to use our forest lands in a manner which will maintain them continuously and fully productive.

"The fight for forest independence is a fight to retrieve an heritage lost by years of abuse and neglect.

"Unlike the fight of the Colonists against their Mother Country for their freedom, we cannot win against our 'territorial grab' in an eight year period for prosperity.

"But, paradoxically, like the Colonists—whose decendents have made an ally of an old Mother Country, we, today, must ally ourselves with an even older Mother Nature, and fight on her side to reclaim our 'lost territory' in timber and lumber.

"The time that will be required to place our forests in order largely depends upon the efforts put forth by each land owner. Until we are again endowed with forests—which means lumber and timber—we are not a rich nor prosperous nation of people."

New S. Army Heads In City To Start Work

CAPT. A. L. BRANDENBURG

MRS. A. L. BRANDENBURG

Captain and Mrs. Arthur L. Brandenburg, who will head the Salvation Army work in this city, have arrived here with their three children and are occupying their quarters in the Salvation Army building. Coming from Homestead they find Warren a most beautiful town and anticipate a delightful round of work here. Prior to leaving Homestead they were honored at a delightful party held for them at the Salvation Army headquarters in Homestead Tuesday evening.

Captain Brandenburg has been in Homestead since 1938, with Mrs. Brandenburg, who also holds the rank of Captain. They were highly popular there in the work and achieved unusual results. Both have been associated with the Salvation Army work since 1929 when they took part in the work in Cleveland.

St. Marys Colts Coming for Doubleheader

Holiday Tilt On Russell Field Expected To Attract Huge Crowd; Slated for 2:30 P. M.

The St. Marys Colts, long regarded as the leading team in Elk County, moves into Warren Monday to do battle with the National Forge and Ordnance outfit to head a weekend of sports for this town with a doubleheader.

Ever since local teams have roamed the country looking for sizeable opposition in the line of baseball, the Colts have loomed as the top contender for honors in this part of the state and it was either Warren or St. Marys which eventually wound up with that mythical title.

Monday's battles will follow up that tradition and reports from the down-state town fill the dope-bucket this year as in every other, with high regard for the St. Marys Colts.

On the other hand, since the Forgers have been operating a ball club out of Warren and Irvine, the teams from that part of the Keystone state have always had high regard for them and with their string of victories in the books this year, nothing has changed.

The National Forge has won 7 clashes, to date, this year and only dropped one, that to the Meadville Pioneers in a night tussle at Oil City and came right back on tail end of a home and home series to whip up a 5 to 2 decision last Sunday and rectify that loss.

The Colts, this season have suffered the loss of quite a few players as has every other baseball team in the states, but reports indicate some of the high quality replacements they have obtained are ably filling the shoes of these men and they are coming here Monday with victory sight.

Game time will be 2:30 p. m. and a record crowd is expected to see the Colts here this year.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

The clocks will start striking V-12 o'clock at a good many colleges today and a lot of coaches who have been wondering whether they'd have jobs next fall can start finding out for sure . . . In case you can't guess, V-12 o'clock stands for the hour when large batches of navy trainees will report at the colleges. Ditto smaller batches of marines . . . It may bring good news, too. For instance, Yale is getting Sam Mele and Johnny Simmons, better-than-fair basketball and baseball players, from N. Y. U. via the Marines . . . Tub Thumper Horace Renegar of Tulane reports that if he had to draw up a football roster right now, he'd have just one name, Joe Renfroe, who is 4-F but an All-American halfback possibility. Nevertheless, Horace figures that navy trainees will help give the Green Wave a good team.

A SHORT SNORTER: When Dewey "Snorter" Luster, Oklahoma grid coach, learned that ten of his Sooners were being called up by the marines, leaving him with only one survivor of last year's squad, Boone Baker, a sophomore wingback, Snorter moaned: "Look like we're coming in on a wingback and a prayer."

ANCIENT HISTORY: Perusing what Ernie Lanigan claims is the oldest baseball book in existence, Charles A. Peverelly's "American Pastimes" (second edition, 1868) we find that baseball oddities are nothing new in the home town of "them bums" . . . Back in 1861 the Atlantics of Brooklyn played a ball game against the Charter Oak club on ice skates at Washington skating pond and won, 36 to 27 . . . Since the advent of Branch (the non-alcoholic) Rickey, any player who gets a skate on gets slapped down with a big fine . . . And Brooklyn's first baseball team, organized in 1854, was originally named the "J.Y.B.B.B. C's"—for Jolly Young Bachelors' Base Ball Club—which is quite a contrast to the current Dodgers, who may be J. at times, but aren't Y. nor B's.

All-Star Team Is Selected By National

New York, July 1—(AP)—A new chapter in the baseball life of Ellsworth "Babe" Dahlgren, the player no one wanted until he joined the Philadelphia Phillies, will be written in Philadelphia's Shibe Park the night of July 13.

The Babe, leading National League hitter, was one of a squad of 25 picked yesterday to represent the senior circuit in the annual All-Star baseball game that night against the American League All-Stars.

The team roster:

Pitchers—Morton Cooper, Max Lanier and Howard Pollet, St. Louis; Truett "Rip" Sewell, Pittsburgh; Claude Passeau, Chicago; Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati; and Al Javery, Boston.

Infielders—Babe Dahlgren, Philadelphia; Frank McCormick, Lonnie Frey and Eddie Miller, Cincinnati; Martin Marion and George Kurowski, St. Louis; Billy Herman, Brooklyn, and Stanley Hack, Chicago.

Outfielders—Stan Musial and Harry Walker, St. Louis; Vince DiMaggio, Pittsburgh; Billy Nicholson, Chicago; Mel Ott, New York; Fred "Dixie" Walker and Augie Galan, Brooklyn.

Batting practice pitchers—Si Johnson, Philadelphia and Clyde Shoun, Cincinnati.

Batting practice catcher—Virgil "Spud" Davis, Pittsburgh.

Coaches—Mile Gonzales, St. Louis, and Frankie Frisch, Pittsburgh.

HOUSES FORM BARRIER

The Boys Club last evening qualified for a place with Clyde Beaty's outfit when they tamed the Wildcats by a score of 19 to 6. T. Juliano did the twirling for the Boys Club and allowed only 4 hits while his teammates garnered a total of 16 wallops. Salerno of the Boys Club had a field day at bat getting a triple and home run to swell his batting average.

Managers Of Junior Circuit Pick Players

BY DAVE HOFF

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—An American League All-Star team heavily laden with New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians was created today from nominations submitted by the eigtt managers for the 10th annual game with the National League stars July 13 in Philadelphia's Shibe Park.

The Yankees and Indians each placed six players on the 25 man squad, which will be directed by Manager Joe McCarthy of (New York, leaving 13 spots for men from the six other clubs.

Those were taken by four Washington Senators, three Boston Red Sox, two St. Louis Browns and two Detroit Tigers, and one each from the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

Thirteen members of the American League team which beat the Nationals last year in the New York Polo Grounds, 3 to 1, placed again, including New York Catcher Bill Dickey, nominated for the 10th straight time—he's been named for all of them — and Yankee Second Baseman Joe Gordon, for the fifth time. Dickey did not play last year because of injuries.

These were the manager's selections for 1943:

Pitchers: Spurgeon Chandler and Ernie Bonham, New York; Tex Hughson and Oscar Judd, Boston; Emil Leonard, Washington; Harold Newhouser, Detroit; James Bagby and Al Smith, Cleveland.

Catchers—Bill Dickey, New York; Buddy Rosar, Cleveland, and Jake Early, Washington.

Infielders—Ken Keltner and Lou Boudreau, Cleveland; Rudy York, Detroit; Joe Gordon, New York; Vernon Stephens, St. Louis; Dick Siebert, Philadelphia; Luke Appling, Chicago, and Bobby Doerr, Boston.

Outfielders—Charley Keller and John Lindell, New York; Chet Loobs, St. Louis; George Case and Bob Johnson, Washington; and Jeff Heath, Cleveland.

Coaches will be Lena Blackburne of Philadelphia and Art Fletcher of New York. Dave Keefe of Philadelphia was selected as pitcher and John Schulte of New York as catcher for batting practice. Eddie Froelich of the Yankees was designated as trainer.

ULRICH NEW ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION CHAMP

Chicago, July 1—(AP)—Wally Ulrich found a junked putter in an ash can in Austin, Minn., liked the game of golf so well he invested $4.87 in a set of mail order house clubs—and became the national intercollegiate links champion.

Not in quite that swift order, however. He was only nine when he salvaged the putter and he was 21 yesterday when he won the National Collegiate Athletic Association's 46th golf tournament at Olympia Fields, representing Carleton College at Northfield, Minn.

He defeated Bill Roden, the good-natured, red-haired Texas University senior, 4 and 2.

Major Leagues Score 100 Pct. In Entertainment In Relief Games But Attendance Is Low

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues scored 100 per cent for entertainment on the first of their two war relief days yesterday, but they failed to get more than a bare passing grade at the box office.

An assortment of double-headers, twilight and night games in eight cities drew 134,578 fans, who paid $147,391 into the treasury of National War Relief, Inc., and this might seem like a lot of people and a lot of money except that games for army and navy relief in the same cities last year netted $289,412, or approximately twice as much.

The major leagues still have another crack at matching last year's total war relief contribution of $506,830 from 16 major league benefit games. The clubs which were on the road today will stage shows of their own on July 28.

There was nothing wrong with the artistic aspects of yesterday's program. It was surrounded with all kinds of trimmings, field events, exhibition games, music and mimicry and as far as the regular championship contests were concerned, produced plenty of competition—four extra-inning affairs, two of them tie games, and good pitching and potent hitting.

At Brooklyn, before a crowd of 26,893 that was mesmerized by the tenor solos of Dixie Walker, the Dodgers handcuffed the Cincinnati Reds twice, 5-0 and 11-5.

This boosted Brooklyn half a game ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League standings. Although the Cards retained a slender percentage advantage of dividing a double-header with the New York Giants, Mort Cooper, appearing in relief, was beaten in the tenth inning of the first game, 4-3, but Lefty Howie Pollet pitched a six-hit 5-0 shutout in the second.

The Chicago Cubs captured two games at Boston, 6-2 and 5-2. Two homers were hit by each team in the nightcap.

The New York Yankees reinforced their hold on the American League with a 3-1 triumph in 10 innings at Cleveland in a night game as Nick Etten made three of the Yanks' five hits off Jim Bagby and batted in all the runs.

Orval Grove, rejected by the army yesterday, achieved his fifth victory without a defeat for the Chicago White Sox last night, 7-1, by holding Washington to five hits.

John Niggeling pitched a three-hitter as the St. Louis Browns beat Philadelphia 3-1 and dumped the Athletics into the cellar.

Ninth inning homers by Bobby Doerr and Pinky Higgins caused the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox to finish in a 3-3 twelve-inning tie in a twilight game.

Pittsburgh and the Phillies also played to a 3-3 deadlock which was halted by the midnight curfew after 11 innings of their night game.

Zivic To Try For Knockout

Pittsburgh, July 1—(AP)—Mike Capriano, manager of Jake Lamotta, arrived in town unexpectedly last night, just about the time newspapers came out with Fritzie Zivic's statement that on July 12 he intends to try for a knockout victory over Lamotta.

"I licked him once and I can do it again," said former Welterweight Champion Zivic, referring to a split decision fight here a month ago when the official verdict favored Lamotta.

Capriano has other ideas.

"Next time," he said, "Jake will whip Zivic in such fashion there won't be any argument about the decision. Those 15 rounds are going to tell a different story. I know Lamotta can go 15 rounds at a pace, but I don't think Fritzie can."

He gave no theory to explain why it was Fritzie who demanded a 15-round go. The first bout was a 10-rounder.

Capriano said Jake is expecting a call to the army soon and that the fight with Zivic may be the Bronx boy's last civilian battle for the duration.

CIVIL SERVICE

U. S. CIVIL SERVICE ANNOUNCES EXAMS SOON

Examinations to fill Federal posts requiring doctors, printing estimators, and student nurses were announced today by the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

The need for doctors in special fields ranging from aviation medicine to gas analysis was emphasized, reflecting the vital war work in medicine being done by such agencies as the Public Health Service and others.

M. D. graduates of accredited medical schools who have had at least 5 years of appropriate professional experience will fill positions of Senior Medical Officer $5,228 a year. Doctors with 3 years of experience in addition to a required internship may assume $4,428 positions, and applicants with 1 year of internship may be used in jobs of Associate Medical Officer, $3,828 a year. Salaries include overtime pay for the 48-hour week.

Doctors will not be offered appointments, however, until they are cleared through the Procurement and Assignment Service for Physicians of the War Manpower Commission, a move designed to guard against transfer of doctors from places where they cannot be spared.

Applications will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met. There are no written tests and no age limits.

At the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C., estimators and jacket-writers are needed to fill positions paying $3,628 and $3,928 a year, including overtime pay. Applicants may be men or women with 8 years in the printing industry 2 to 4 years of which were spent estimating job materials and printing costs, preparing job orders, and specifying printing methods and materials.

Appointees will be selected from those passing general and practical written tests to be given tthroughout the country. Applications will be accepted in the Commission's Washington office until August 2.

High school girls graduating now or sometime before January 31, 1944 may apply for student nurse training (psychiatric) at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D. C., Federal institution for mental disorders. Classes being October 1, 1943, and March 15, 1944. Approximately 50 students will be selected by written test. Pay is $288 a year with quarters, subsistence, laundry, and medical attention furnished. Applications must be filed with the Commission's office by July 21, 1943.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, Mr. W. U. McMichael, at Warren, Pa., or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

Americans Capture Viru Harbor After Violent Fighting

that the offensive would force Japan's hand and result in a possibly decisive naval engagement for control of the South Pacific.

Imperial Japanese headquarters acknowledged that Allied troops had landed on Rendova, but was silent on other landings. A Tokyo broadcast said Japanese army and naval air forces were engaged in "violent attacks" against the Allied fleet off Rendova.

Similar Japanese claims in the past have been officially branded as "fantastic exaggerations."

Rendova is only five miles—easy artillery range—from the enemy air base at Munda, New Georgia, and the announcement that U. S. marines had landed on New Georgia suggested that a drive on the base was developing.

In the southwest Pacific, dispatches said American troops in landing craft guarded by speedy motor torpedo boats fought their way ashore at Nassau Bay, overcoming enemy defenses, and then plunging inland in pursuit of the Japanese.

Nassau Bay is only 12 miles south of Salamaua, one of the enemy's two main strongholds in New Guinea, and eight miles from Mubo where American and Australian troops have been skirmishing with the Japanese for many weeks.

McDaniel said the closely correlated thrusts against the enemy's left wing in the South Seas battle theatre did not of themselves constitute a major campaign to roll back the Japanese, but marked at least the beginning of a program of reconquest.

FIRE AT UNIONTOWN CAUSES $50,000 LOSS

Uniontown, July 1—(AP)—An early morning fire destroyed two buildings, causing damage unofficially estimated at more than $50,000 and injury of three persons here today.

The three-story, 80-room LaFayette hotel and the four-story Kaufman department store, both brick structures, were almost completely destroyed. Kaufman's is the second largest store in the city.

On its ground floor, the hotel building housed a tavern and four stores, all of which were burned out.

Mrs. Mae Kelly suffered a possible fracture of the skull when she tripped and fell backward while police lines were being stretched. Two firemen were overcome by smoke.

SPEAKER PREDICTS U. S. WILL BE BOMBED

Pittsburgh, July 1—(AP)—America "can and probably will be bombed before the war is completed," Col. Henry A. Reninger of Baltimore told a meeting of plant protection officers here yesterday.

Col. Reninger, who is assistant director in charge of protection for the Third Civilian Defense Region, declared also that an increase may be expected soon in attempts to sabotage and destroy war production plants.

Sabotage to date has been less than expected, he stated, because of "German strategy in concentrating on a terrific submarine campaign through which finished products, the ship and the crew are sunk in one operation."

BABE DAHLGREN WILL BE GIVEN HEARING

Philadelphia, July 1.—(AP)—The Phillies haven't lost Babe Dahlgren yet.

His draft board announced that the third baseman, leading National League batter, has been granted a hearing early in August on his request for deferment.

Even if he should be called for induction after the hearing, under selective service regulations he would get a three-week furlough —and a lot of pitchers face the Babe in three weeks.

Ickes Plea is Unheeded By Coal Miners

Wilkes-Barre, July 1—(AP)—The vast majority of the 40,000 hard coal miners in District 1 returned to their jobs today, ending their two-week-old strike, but not a single major break occurred in the ranks of thousands of insurgents still idle in Districts 7 and 9.

In fact the situation became more gloomy in District 7, where 9,600 of the 15,000 workers remained home.

In District 1, however, the miners trooped back to work by the thousands in compliance with votes taken yesterday and last night.

Sicilian and Sardinian Air Fields Bombed

targets yesterday left fires blazing at air fields and many enemy planes were destroyed or damaged in dispersal areas.

All engagements cost the Allies two planes.

In addition to the two German fighters shot down by lightnings and the third destroyed by Axis flak, reports listed a junker-88 and a Heinkel 111 as shot down Tuesday night by RAF beaufighters which encountered a number of enemy raiders over the Mediterranean

Name Women To Committee On Stamp Driv

Mrs. E. G. Hamilton, chairman of the woman's committee of the Warren County War Savings Staff, announced late today that the following will comprise the Warren borough portion of her personnel:

Mrs. J. W. A. Lucc, assistant chairman; Mrs. Harold Banghart, Mrs. Aubrey David, Mrs. Byron Knapp, Mrs. Grace B. Siegfried and Mrs. Harold C. Warren.

Appointed for the county representation are: Mrs. R. L. Mead, Youngsville; Mrs. T. H. Moll, Russell; Mrs. Dan Haggerty, Sugar Grove; Mrs. Marshall Bucklin, Tidioute. Two others, in North Warren and Sheffield, will be announced tomorrow.

Meeting here tomorrow with this permanent committee will be Mrs. Andrew Sloane, of Pittsburgh, administrator of the women's committees for western Pennsylvania, and Miss Joan Wollaston, of Philadelphia, secretary.

Appeal Made To Chiefs Of Free French

Liberation today named Pierre Charles Cournarie to succeed Pierre Boisson as governor general of French West Africa, where the Dakar naval base is situated.

Cournarie had been governor of the Cameroons under an appointment made in November, 1940, by Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

Mythical "Speaker" Predicts Bombing of U. S.

so now than at other times except that "the war is approaching a vigorous summer, and anything can happen."

Enemy air attack might come in three ways, Speaker said—from submarines carrying float planes, from aircraft carriers, or—against the east coast—long range suicide bombers from Germany.

Investigation Into Policies of BEW Starts

night that he and Jones had agreed to continue temporarily the arrangement by which the BEW draws funds from the RFC for its foreign purchases. After congress returns from a contemplated summer recess, Wallace said BEW would ask for direct appropriations.

COLD IN SOMERSET

Samerset, July 1—(AP)—A blast of wintry weather ruined some vegetable gardens hereabouts overnight and forced residents to get out their heavy blankets and fire the furnaces. The temperature at Friedens, six miles away, descended to 28 above.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BPW CLUB HAS CANCELLED PARTY

The birthday dinner and meeting planned by the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club for next Wednesday evening has been cancelled in respect to one of its most active members, Miss Mabel E. Nelson, whose death occurred Tuesday evening at Grove City.

Soldiers Not Famished Despite Tales

Is it true that a soldier is always hungry?

Yes—up to a joint. But the Quartermaster Department has found that—in spite of the wealth of variety in today's Army diet—some soldiers, particularly new recruits, actually don't eat enough.

After all, the Army mess table is exactly like a football team's training table. The food served there is carefully planned to aid in the physical development of the soldier. And the Army has discovered certain little ways to increase Johnny Doughboy's appetite.

For instance, today's soldier is no longer required to stand at attention before sitting down at his mess table. When the bugle sounds out the Army equivalent of "Come and Get It!" the soldier does just that . . . with no preliminaries to dull his appetite.

Another way the Army has found to add to a soldier's enjoyment of his food—and therefore increase his consumption of all those carefully prepared vitamins, minerals, and proteins—is to allow the men to smoke during meals. Measured tests run by the Quartermaster's Department show that food consumption actually increased by 5% when soldiers were permitted to smoke cigarettes at the mess table.

"Smokes," of course, play a prominent part in many phases of the life of a soldier. Whenever you see a news photo of soldiers at ease, you're apt to see them enjoying a cigarette. Particularly among American troops overseas, cigarettes—real American cigarettes—are highly prized and almost never present in sufficient quantities.

What kind of cigarettes do Uncle Sam's fighting men prefer? Well, records show that the favorite cigarette is Camel. That is true not only with men in the Army, but with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen as well. Sales records from the service men's own stores—Post Exchanges, Sales Commissaries, Ship's Service Stores, Ship's Stores, and Canteens—show that Camels are first with men in all branches of the service.

Further proof that Uncle Sam's fighting men like their smokes is given in the service man's preference in gifts from home—it's carton of his favorite brand of cigarettes. Tobacco dealers, recognizing that Camels are the favorite among service men, are equipped to help you in properly wrapping, addressing, and stamping your gift of Camels to the man in the service.

GRAND VALLEY

Grand Valley, June 29—To the oil producers: Junk, scrap and metal are still urgently needed in our great war effort. L. R. Johnson and H. J. Eaton having been appointed by Warren County Chairman W. T. Corbett on volunteer salvage corps of this district. We wish trough the valuable circulation of the Warren Times-Mirror to make an appeal to the oil producers and oil operators to again make an extra effort in search of all the non-usable material that is classed as junk into the salvage drive. We have all combed our leases from end to end, but it seems quite necessary that we dig even deeper into our choice laid away junk pile.

All oil men we know are reluctant to junk sertain old material, but if Uncle Sam sorely needs them it is our patriotism that will make us loosen and release them for scrap. Let us at this time unload just part of our old prize junk, not anything of real value, but material that we possibly will not use in a long time.

It isn't the purpose of the salvage committee to demand the disposal of our materials, but to loosen up many tons that are still available.

We are required to contact as many producers as possible, and acquire a census of materials available, and also of materials that the producers would list as saleable.

In other words, the Warren committee wishes to set up a clearing house, an exchange, trade or sale to other producers.

By these means perhaps exchange will make available scrap.

So kindly list your stuff if you will and we will call on you soon.

L. R. Johnson,
H. J. Eaton,
Com.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—One day soon an obscure private in some Army camp is going to wake up, in the usual grey dawn, and find himself acclaimed as a coming movie star. And if I know Bob Ryan, he'll read the notices, grin philosophically, and put no less snap than usual into the business of being a good soldier.

For more than a year, his name meaning nothing to most fans, and little to most of Hollywood, he has been canning his bids for recognition. Shortly now the cans will be opened, the screen will reveal the contents, and the ladies will start writing letters to the tall, husky, likeable chap billed as Robert Ryan. The letters will have to be forwarded. Bob was trying on uniforms by the time the first of five pictures, "Bombardier," was on view in a scant few cities.

IT WAS another case of the "breaks," and destiny — the same that's changing the course of millions of other lives—giving a good guy's personal hopes and ambitions the quick brush-off.

Five years ago Ryan was in Hollywood, the urge to be an actor fresh upon him. He couldn't get a look inside a studio. He wasn't the type, he didn't look like an actor, he couldn't even get in to see a fifth-rate agent.

Later it was precisely because he didn't look like an actor that he got into pictures. Pare Lorentz, with ambitious plans for a semi-documentary feature entitled "Name, Age, and Occupation," found in Ryan the man he needed for a hero—an actor who didn't look like one, a man who was big, rugged and typically American in appearance.

Lorentz's picture was shelved as too costly midway in production, but Ryan was in—specifically, in time, in "Bombardier," "The Sky's the Limit," "The Iron Major" and "Behind the Rising Sun."

IT HAD taken him long to decide that acting was his work. Born in Chicago 33 years ago, he lived within a few blocks of the old Essanay studio. At Dartmouth he starred in football, track, and boxing while majoring in English, aspiring to write, and fitting himself for nothing in particular on graduation—in 1932, of all years.

The next few years he worked as sandhog, seaman, salesman, sewer builder, miner, cowhand, WPA laborer and paving supervisor. His oddest job was as chauffeur to a gentleman he later learned was a gangster.

"I was making enough to eat," he says, "but I kept looking for what I really wanted to do. In Chicago, I got a chance to stage a show at a private school for girls. It was so interesting I knew I'd always wanted to be an actor."

He is thoughtful and serious, and hearty and well-met. He likes to be told that he doesn't look like an actor—not that he has an aversion to actors, many of whom he likes very much. "And I know a lot of jerks, too, who aren't actors," he says.
